Williams Smashes Hamilton Sextet In 7-0 Whitewashing

Remis Makes Fifty Saves as Puck-Chasers Suffer Sixth Defeat

Williams' hockey sextet successfully invaded the Sage Rink Saturday night and administered a sound 7-0 trouncing to the ailing Continentals. Two goals in the first period and five more in the final fifteen minutes of the game accounted for the Hamilton whitewashing.

The second period was the only time that the local sextet was able to keep pace with the fast-skating easterners who annexed the Lake Placid Championship last Christmas. The superb defensive work of Goalie Steve Remis, who made almost fifty saves, kept the score from being any greater. The Williams goalie, on the other hand, was forced to make only twelve stops during the game.

Holmes and Wells initiated the scoring for the visitors on a bit of fancy passing in the second minute of play. A few minutes later Smith sank the puck for the second goal.

During the second frame the Buff and Blue line matched the playing of Williams move for move and the period went by without a score.

The final period was a walkaway for Williams who tore the Continental defense into shreds and pushed the puck past Remis for five goals. Rice and Head each caged two for the invaders and Holmes sank the fifth.

Despite the one-sided score, the game proved to be fast and exciting in every respect with plenty of thrills for the spectators. Erickson and Joy were outstanding on the offense for Hamilton, while Gardner and Hole played their usual stellar defensive game.

The game represented the Continentals third loss since the Victoria match and was the fifth defeat in a row. Eleven days previously the Clinton Town Team swamped the locals 8-1 in a revenge game on the Sage Rink. Last year Hamilton beat Clinton 5-4. Army took the measure of the Continentals last week on her own rink at West Point by a 3-2

Cowley Talks Before Rome, Utica Alumni

Thirty-five alumni of Hamilton College from the Rome area greeted Dr. W. H. Cowley at a dinner meeting at the Elks Club in Rome on February 15. Dr. Cowley outlined the three-point "inventory" of Hamilton College which is now in progress.

The first part consists of Dr. E. B. Graves' present study of ten colleges of similar type and style as Hamilton to find out how their activities are being run. The second point deals with the statistical study of the work and accomplishments of Hamliton alumni in the last twenty years. Lastly, a study will be made of alumni's opinions regarding the college program. The findings will be submitted in a formal report to the trustees and the faculty.

This was Dr. Cowley's first visit to Rome and his sixteenth meeting with alumni groups.

On February 1, Dr Cowley talked before a large group of central New York alumni in Utica. Dr. Cowley discussed improvements at Hamilton College, including an auditorium, a student union building, a modern infirmary, and faculty offices.

On March 7, Dr. Cowley will speak at Sauquoit Valley; on March 8, at the Colby Junior College in New Hampshire; and on March 9 he will make two speeches in Middlebury, one to a high school, and one before a community group.

Hill Quintet Drops Two Contests To Buffalo and Allegheny Fives

On its second road trip of the current season, Hamilton's basketball team lost two contests last week-end to strong Buffalo and Allegheny fives. The defeats brought the Buff and Blue record to one win and eight losses with two games yet to be played.

The Buffalo fray on Friday night was marked by the home team's accurate shooting; the Bisons sank almost fifty percent of their tries. High scorers for the Continentals were Chink Davis, junior guard, with nine points, and Jack Williams and Mel Ellison, both with eight. Hamilton's score was kept down considerably by the work of Townsend, six-foot-eight Bison center, who deflected numerous set shots made by the Hillmen. Scoring honors for the evening went to Fraser, Buffalo forward, who rang up nine field goals and two fouls for a total of twenty points.

Allegheny Has Fast Team

In Allegheny, Saturday's opponent, the Buff and Blue encountered one of the fastest fives against which they have been matched this season. The Gators started out like a house afire and were never headed; by the end of the first half the homesters had piled up a score of thirty against Hamilton's seventeen. The Hillmen were considerably bothered by White, Gator forward, who sank eight one-handed shots from outside the circle. Scoring honors were taken by White, and Hart, his running mate, both of whom swished the net eight times with field goals and once with a free toss. Outstanding for Hamilton

Debate Team Has Heavy Schedule

Five scheduled debates fill the spring calendar of Hamilton's debating team.

Alan B. McMillen and Harry J. McCormick will travel to St. Rose this Friday to debate on the negative side of the proposition, "Resolved: That the United States should enter into a formal military alliance with Great Britain." This debate, a formal one, is the principal forensic event of the year at St. Rose. According to Oliver Treyz, speakers will give eight minute advance speeches and five minute rebuttals. Martin Hilfinger and Allenby Jones argued on the same side of the proposition last Monday night against Haverford.

Also on this Friday, William E. Griffith and Murray D. Shepp will debate against Albany State Teachers College on the negative side of the subject, "Resolved: That a system of socialized medicine should be adopted."

On March 17, T. Litchfield Howe and Edwin A. Waszkiewicz are scheduled to meet Rutgers here.

Arthur A. Batts and Oliver E. Treyz will debate against Union over WGY on May 3.

Students to Vote On New Council

Suggested Committee Will Be Composed of Seven Upperclassmen

At its meeting on March 6, the Executive Council will vote on a new plan for the formation of a student council to replace the present system of undergraduate government. A committee composed of Erickson, Farrell, Hilfinger, and Gardner was appointed by the Council to formulate the plan. Before the proposed organization can be made up, however, the scheme must be submitted to the entire student body for its approval.

The suggested plan calls for the nomination of nine juniors in late April or early May by the outgoing Council (this spring it would be the Executive Council). Of these men, at least one must be a Squire, the governing board of that body having the privilege of nominating one man, who is automatically placed on the ballot.

This does not necessarily mean, however, that there would be only one Squire nominated, for the outgoing Council would be expected to choose the nine outstanding men in the junior class. The undergraduate body would then vote on the nine nominees, electing five juniors to serve on the council for the next year. The retiring council would also nominate four sophomores, of whom two would be chosen to sit with the five

Pi Delta Epsilon Formulates Plans

The Hamilton chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalistic fraternity, met last Friday night to begin formulation of plans for a campaign to stimulate undergraduate interest in college publications, and to set up machinery for the collecting and evaluating of the various publications.

It was decided at the meeting there is a real place at Hamilton College for an active, useful honorary society connected with the publications, and that it can fulfill many functions other than those under the jurisdiction of the Publications Board. Until the formation of the Board last spring, many of the duties now performed by it were performed by Pi Delta Epsilon, and this fact had led to a belief, both on the part of the student body and of some members of Pi Delt, that there was no longer any function for the fraternity to fulfill. Upon discussion, however, many possible ways for the group to be of real value were discovered, and it was decided to launch a compaign immediately to arouse more interest in publications among the undergraduates. Further plans of Pi Delta Epsilon will be revealed in the near future.

Choir Completes Plans for Trip

Broadcast Over WJZ with Woollcott Is Included In Week-end Tour

On Friday, March 10, the sixty-three members of the Hamilton College choir will leave on the Choir's fourteenth annual tour. The group will appear in Albany, N. Y., Essex Fells, N. J., and New York City, returning to the Hill Sunday night.

The Albany concert is being held at 8:30 p. m., Friday March 10, at the Albany Institute of History and Art. William K. Collins, Sr., '02, the father of Bill and Bob Collins, is arranging for the appearance in the Capitol City.

The next day, the choir is to sing at Essex Fells, New Jersey, under the auspices of the Young Peoples Fellowship of Saint Peter's Church, Essex Fells. Charles H. Seaver, '21, has led the plans for this program. The members of the choir will stay at the homes of Essex Fells' families over Saturday night.

On Sunday the choir, under the direction of Professor Paul A. Fancher, will make its 8th annual coast-to-coast broadcast over the 135 stations of the WJZ network. The group will appear on the Magic Key program from 2:00 p. m. to 3:00 p. m. Alexander Woollcott, '09, will speak for five minutes during the hour. The broadcast will be heard in Canada, the British Isles, and by short wave throughout the world.

An hour after the radio appearance the choir will sing in St. Thomas' Church, New York City. This program will conclude the itinerary and the choir will entrain for Hamilton early Sunday evening.

Five members have been added to the choir this semester. They are: Albert Grokoest, Philip Sottong, Douglas Miner, Donald Roman, and Anthony Schepsis. The graduate manager of the group is Wallace B. Johnson, and William Collins is the undergraduate manager.

Squires Club Moves Into New Quarters

The newly organized Squires Club, having formed a Constitution, moved into its partially furnished quarters in the front of Commons Saturday.

The Publications Office, formerly located in Commons, is now situated in Silliman Hall.

Last week the new neutral organization held its second banquet of the year in Commons on February 20. Afterwards, the temporary committee headed by Robert Bacon, '40, presented to the Squires the new Constitution, which was unamimously adopted. An election was held for members of the Executive Committee, and Robert Lewis, '40, was elected chairman of the newly appointed committee.

The first task of the committee was the selection of furniture for the rooms, which have just been refinished by the College. An anonymous donation of $200 enabled some of the Executive Committee, assisted by Mrs. James Q. Dealey, to purchase a considerable amount of new furniture, some of which has already been delivered. Donations of furniture and pictures have been made by President Cowley, Professor Fancher, and Mr. Johnson.

A ping pong table is one of the more popular features of the new Squires Club. This week, the committee intends to select material for the curtains, which Mr. Edward Wales Root has promised to design.

The chairman of the Executive Committee, Robert Lewis, has announced that there will be a meeting to adopt changes in the Constitution and perfect the organization at the end of this week.

One hundred and three new members were added to the ten Hill fraternities at the conclusion of initiation ceremonies on February 11. Of this number, there were 95 freshmen, three juniors, and five sophomores.

Psi Upsilon had the largest number of initiates, 16 men being inducted into the fraternity. Runners-up for numerical honors were Alpha Delta Phi and Emerson Literary Society, each house initiating 13 men.

The attendance at the formal ceremonies held on the last day of initiation week was swelled by the return of many alumni. Bruce Barton, Amherst, '07, well-known Republican representative from New York, attended the induction rites of his fraternity, Alpha Delta Phi.

The names and town addresses of the new members are as follows:

Freshmen Trying Out For Positions on Publications

The February 18 call for freshman competitors for the staffs of Hill publications was answered by 22 candidates, 14 of whom proved eligible by having an average of 75 per cent or better in the first semester's work. At the present moment, eight of this number are engaged in work for Life. The remaining six will be given try-outs for the business staff later in the month.

Those freshmen who are entered in the competition are Dormus, Stoutenburg, Barry, Tillman, Bate, Henderson, Chandor, Scharf, Pomilio, Kempsell, Swallen, Barton, Appleton, and Zion.

A final call for freshman competitors will be made at morning chapel on Friday.

Band and Choir To Give Concert

The Musical Art Society will present its fifth concert of the current season next Sunday night. The concert will be a strictly "home talent" affair, all of the performers being Hill undergraduates.

The idea of employing only student talent for a concert has not been carried out during the last year or two; and should the venture prove successful this year, the Musical Art Committee will probably make it an annual feature.

Including on Sunday night's program will be the College Choir, under the direction of Professor Fancher, the College Band and the recently formed octet, both led by Sam Lake, '39, and possibly two or three instrumental solos.

The choir is at its peak at the moment, having undergone many drills during the past month in preparation for the concert tour which will start next Friday, March 10. The band is enjoying one of its best year, and the octet has shown that it is always in top form.

The last Musical Art concert drew a fair sized crowd considering the very bad weather. Miss Johnson's lovely soprano voice made those who did brave the storm very glad for their courage in so doing.

Station WIBX Books Chapel Broadcasts

The Sunday Chapel broadcast through Station WIBX, begun as an experiment on Sunday, February 19, is to be continued until the end of the college year.

Despite technical difficulties which marred reception both Sunday, the broadcasts were considered a success. Many enthusiastic responses were received from listeners not only within a 50 mile radius of Utica, but from distances as far as 200 miles away.

Excellent training in public speaking before a microphone is offered by the weekly program, as student announcers are used exclusively.

The chapel preachers for the next three weeks are: March 5, Rev. Prof. Robert L. Calhoun, Yale Divinity School; March 12, Rev. Prof. Halford E. Luccock, D.D., Yale Divinity School; March 19, Dean Henry P. Van Dusen, Union Seminary, N. Y.

Newman Club Meeting

The Newman Club will hold a meeting tomorrow night at 8:30 at Sigma Phi Place.

Dr. James Plant, '12, Speaks Here Tonight

Dr. James Stuart Plant, director of the Essex County, N. J., Juvenile Clinic, will present a lecture in the chapel this evening at eight o'clock. The subject of his address is: The Relationship of Mental Hygiene to Problems of Education.

Dr. Plant was graduated from Hamilton in 1912, a prominent member of a distinguished class. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and affiliated with the Emerson Literary Society. After he left college, Dr. Plant studied medicine in this country and at the Sorbonne. His versatile genius has enabled him to make significant contributions in the field of medicine and for humanity. In addition to directing a clinic, he finds time to give courses in mental hygiene at N. Y. U., Columbia, and Rutgers. He is also a well known author and lecturer.

The students and faculty are invited to attend a reception given in honor of the speaker, at the E. L. S. House after the address.

Hamilton Campus Becomes Playground For Association of Cavorting Canines

Hamilton has gone to the dogs, so your reporter went out to study the problem last week. We chanced upon a class of fifteen dogs in front of the library, and waiting until their school was out, we followed a few of them as they treked homeward, knowing that this was a great chance to watch them in action.

Otto, the Psi Upsilon dog, strolled arm in arm with Betty, the Alpha Delt terror, down the Chapel walk, making plans for a rendezvous that night. Rommey, the Chi Psi's threat for blue ribbons, chased madly after the pair, but Betty only looked the other way. She had refused to speak to Rommey, after the double dealing he had handed her by spoon-with Tucker, Professor Patterson's gay lothario, just the night before. Hards words passed between Rommey and Otto, and only at the sight of the oncoming female pup who continually insists upon crooning with the Chapel's A flat, did the collie stop fighting. Robbing the cradle was an old pastime for Rommey, so his technique left nothing to be desired. The little pup was completely bewitched by her charmer, and she left with the promise of meeting Rommey under the stars that night.

Knowing that there would be some dirty work afoot that night, your reporter, armed with a flashlight, strolled down the Chapel walk towards the graveyard. As the DKE House came in sight, a low murmuring sound came from behind the infirmary. Stealthfully moving forward now, we chanced upon John, Mr. Miner's setter, as he kept patrol for his comrades. It was easy winning John over with a nice T bone, and we progressed into the dismal haunts of the graveyard. We stumbled and fell into Professor Rudd's Jalon, interrupting a drawn out kiss which was keeping him and a Clinton damsel quite busy. Hardly had we finished excusing ourselves, than we fell over the prostrate form of Noodle, better known as the Sig's Strongheart, who was necking at breakneck speed with Betty. But where was Otto? A quick search found him resting beneath a gravestone, reading a book on how to court successfully.

THE CHARLATANS

There has been no organization on the Hill in recent years that has been more active or that has aroused more interest, both on the campus and in our neighboring communities, than the Charlatans. It is unfortunate that in speaking of the Charlatans the words "has been" must be used instead of "is."

Why is it that the Charlatans have staged nothing this year but a complete collapse? In the past there has been no dramatic society more distinguished. Numbering such men as Alexander Woollcott and Professor Rudd among its founders, it was the first amateur group in the United States to produce "Journey's End," and one of the first to produce "Winterset." Only last winter an extremely competent cast gave a performance of "Outward Bound," for the benefit of the Gymnasium Fund, that was a credit both to the Charlatans and to the college.

It was announced a few weeks ago that three one-act plays would be given by the Charlatans in the near future. One of these plays was cast and two rehearsals were held, but it was useless to proceed further because the directors of the other two seemed unable to decide either how to cast the plays or whether or not to give them at all. Undoubtedly the criticism that there is a lack of talent on the Hill this year has some validity, but we refuse to believe that there are not enough good actors and energetic directors about Hamilton College to produce three one-act plays. Some person or persons have fallen down badly on their jobs, and unless something is done soon the Charlatans will drop from sight as completely as last year's Art Club.

"HOME TALENT" NIGHT

A return engagement we welcome heartily is the "home talent" concert to be presented this Sunday night. To the best of our recollection, this is the first time in many years that a Musical Art Concert has presented so many undergraduate performers, and from the advance reports, the concert cannot help but be a success.

Whoever is responsible for Sunday's concert deserves commendation for his work. We have waited quite a while to have a "home talent" performance on the Hill which included more than one undergraduate organization, and we hope that such affairs will become regular events in the future.

Another idea along the same line is one which has met with great success in other institutions. It is a so-called "Drama Night", and does everything but live up to its name. Several fraternities submit their offerings at the monthly session, or whenever it may be. Each house is allowed so much time to present its production, which may be a series of humorous skits, a play, a performance by the fraternity "jazz band", or what have you. The antics of the amateur actors usually bring down the house, and it is doubtful who is the most sorry when the final curtain falls, the audience or the performers. At such a "Drama Night", almost needless to say, formality is booted out the window, and the result is the best time anyone has had for months.

Whether the idea bears fruit or not, here's to more "home talent" nights.

A QUESTIONNAIRE

Here is a chance for some constructive criticism.

The Hamilton chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalistic fraternity, will issue in the near future a questionnaire asking for suggestions on ways to improve publications. If each undergraduate will spend a little time and effort in filling out this questionnaire, the results of Pi Delta Epsilon's poll will help immeasurably in determining ways to improve the offerings of Hill editors.

Something grim and sinister has crept into the platitudinous, day-to-day existence of the college. First, there's the case of the "Missing Picture" . . . missing from the super-ornate lobby of the Stanley Theatre just about that time during hell week when the DU's send the freshmen out on a scavenger hunt. And then there's the new team of Jesse and Frank James (reincarnated) who have been terrorizing the local bar-rooms and holding up mail trains at two o'clock in the morning. A State Trooper's uniform should make us tremble.

Oregon State College has areas painted on its sidewalks to indicate where students may light cigarettes, and where they may throw them away.

Fencers Drop Two Meets To Columbia and Colgate

To date, the Hamilton College fencing team has engaged in two meets, both of which it lost. The first, with Columbia, ended up 20-7. Hamilton's team, however, was able to enter only three men who had ever had intercollegiate experience. These were Captain Williams, Warfield, and Bramley.

The second meet was at Colgate last Saturday. The score was 10½-6½. Colgate's Hal Lube, football luminary, fenced in the meet and lost to Kelly, of Hamilton. Warfield was the only Hamiltonian to win two of his bouts.

The heavy end of the schedule is yet to come. The team goes to Cornell March 4 for a quadrangular meet with Cornell, Syracuse, and Penn State. On March 11, M.I.T. will be host to Hamilton in Boston. The following week will find Syracuse here. The Intercollegiate Meet is to be held on April 1 in either New York or Philadelphia.

Prettyman Chosen Head As Faculty Club Elects

At the meeting of the Faculty Club held on February 23, officers for the year were elected. Mr. Albert I. Prettyman was chosen president, Mr. Wallace B. Johnson, treasurer, and Dr. Thomas McN. Johnston secretary.

Dr. Johnston read a paper on "The Neo-Classic Criticism of the Ancient Hebrew Poetry."

At the conclusion of the session, refreshments were served.

Frosh Hockey Team May Play Colgate and Clinton

The freshman hockey team may play two more games, one with the Colgate Frosh and the other with Clinton High School. In previous matches, the strong Colgate team defeated the yearlings, 4-0. In their second game with the Clintonians, the Hill freshmen defeated the locals, 3-1, to avenge a 3-2 defeat in their first encounter.

Co-Captain Bob Scheu, out for the rest of the season with a cracked breastbone, is being replaced on the left wing by Leopold Meier. Co-Captain Nelson Dale, center, is the team's mainstay; Howard Keefe is first-string right wing; and Harry Bennett and Clayton Slade provide good defense. Royd Lutz is an able goalie. Coach Prettyman has added five new men to his freshman squad: George Now, Curtiss Kendall, Bruce Otis, Howell Kitchell, and Philip Hill.

Hockey Game on Saturday To Benefit Olympic Fund

It has just been announced by Coach A. I. Prettyman that the proceeds from the sale of tickets for the Cornell-Hamilton hockey game this Saturday night will be donated to the American Olympic Committee as Hamilton's contribution to the estimated $10,000 fund required to send the American team to Switzerland in 1940.

A similar contest will be played this Friday night at Potsdam, N. Y., where the Clinton sextet will meet Clarkson University in a game to raise Olympic funds.

was Ellison, who led the visitor's scoring with four field goals and two fouls.

Previous Contests

Since the last issue of Hamilton Life, the Continentals have participated in three encounters besides the Allegheny and Buffalo frays. On Friday evening, February 10, the Hillmen met Swarthmore in a return engagement at the latter's court. Once again Hamilton was unable to turn back their rivals, one of the strongest small-college teams in the country. The final score was 48-35. On the next evening Coach Weber's men were nosed out by Haverford, 43-41, in a thrilling game which was not decided until the last seconds of play. The margin of victory was due to Haverford's superiority at dropping foul shots. Hamilton was able to make but five free tosses out of thirteen.

The last home game of the season, played against Rochester on February 18, once again saw the Hamiltonians go down to defeat. The contest was even for the first half, but immediately after the starting whistle of the second half, the Rochesterites began to pull away. The final count was 49-31.

COLDS IN FLORIDA

(ACP)—Miami University medical authorities report a decrease of more than 50 percent in the number, severity, and duration of colds contracted by students as a result of cold vaccine injections. This is probably the only way in which a Miama student could catch a cold.

Sport Notes

By W. J. Roider, '39

This department was the recipient of a very interesting letter last week from a gentleman who resides near the college and who has had a great deal of interest in Hamilton, Hamilton men, and Hamilton activities. To us it seemed to be an especially unusual interest, because the writer confessed that he was not a Hill graduate, nor had he even attended Hamilton for a short time.

The gist of the material found in our friend's epistle concerns the low ebb of Hamilton athletics throughout this college year. Says the writer:

"You at Hamilton have been justly proud that you have never entered in the race for big-time athletics, selling the name of your school for the purpose of salaried athletes. I, too, during the term of years I have known and have been interested in Hamilton, have respected that ideal you have maintained. And even though you have held out against buying athletes, you have produced teams which have been consistently on a par with any turned out by schools of your size.

"But for the last three years I have noted a decided drop in the performances of the teams on the Hill, a drop which seems to have reached its lowest point this year.

"Look at your records! Your football squad tied one game and lost all the others. Your basketball team has been losing many close games, and so far has managed to win only one contest. Hockey, your biggest sport, has had only a so-so season up to this date. Fencing seems to be following the road to a poor season. Soccer was anything but successful, and from last reports in Hamilton Life, the baseball team will have a hard time of it in the spring. I know very little about your golf and tennis prospects for the coming season, but assume they will be anything but successful if they attempt to fit into the picture of Hamilton athletics for the year of 1938-39.

"Add to the above lugubrious description the fact that track at Hamilton has been especially poor for the last few years that cross-country suffered such a degredation that it was dropped entirely from the Hill athletic setup, and the resulting survey of Hamilton athletics presents anything but a rosy setting.

"The fault cannot lie in the coaching staff at Hamilton, for the members of this staff have been there for several years, and up to the time when Hill sports started to slip three years ago, these same coaches were producing fine teams. So I have tried to look elsewhere for a solution to the problem.

"My final decision on the whole question is that the boys who are coming to Hamilton and are representing Hamilton on the athletic field are not equal to those who attended Hamilton in the past years, and certainly are not equal to those who now represent other colleges which play against your teams.

"Is this true, Mr. Sports Editor? Anyway it's a thought?"

Room does not permit a discussion of the above charge this week, but since the issue is so pertinent we feel that next week we would like to devote our column to an answer to this letter.

Ski Team Trims Clarkson, Lags in Two Other Meets

The Hamilton Ski Team has seen a lot of action during the past three weeks, but the competition has been so strong that the Continentals have not made a very impressive record.

On February 11, Coach Winters' charges journeyed to Colgate, where they took part in a five-way meet. Colgate won the meet, followed in due order by Penn State, Syracuse, Hobart, and Hamilton. Individual scoring was not registered until late in the afternoon, and as yet the personal scores have not been received.

The only dual meet so far this year was with Clarkson Tech. The Continental skiers coasted through to an easy victory, 300 to 247.5. Hamilton took the first three places in all three events: George Bonney won the cross country in 37.40, followed by Henry Eagle and Bill Barlow; Barlow took the down hill in 1:01.5, Eagle and Cardamone running second and third; the slalom also was won by Barlow in 1:39.5, Bonney and Cardamone trailing his time closely. Other skiers who competed for Hamilton were Gouge, Fitzell, Heidner, Petri, and Brandt.

Last Saturday, the Continentals went to Ithaca to take part in the two-day N.Y.S.I.S.A. meet. Cornell successfully defended its N.Y.S. intercollegiate title by counting a total of 292.31 points, while Hamilton placed sixth. The other teams of this association which skied Saturday, with their scores, are as follows: Syracuse, 288.44; St. Lawrence, 284.91; Hobart, 273.43; Colgate, 265.89; Hamilton, 246.27; R.P.I., 195.17; Union, 177.18.

Serel of R.P.I. was the individual star of the week-end, winning both the slalom and down-hill events. The opposition was strong in this meet, and the Hamilton skiers failed to place a single man in the upper brackets of any of the three events.

Freshman Basketball Team Gains Only One Victory

The Freshman basketball team has had few games this season, and it is just beginning to show its mettle.

The team lost its first game to the Albany State Freshmen, 23 to 36. Its defeat by the Morrisville Agricultural School, 33 to 37, following so closely upon Initiation Week, is easily excusable. In the game with The Central City Business School of Syracuse, the team cooperated beautifully and scored a decisive victory, 40 to 29. The game against The Paulston Institute of Syracuse last Monday evening February 27, resulted in a loss for the Hill yearlings, the score being 51-39.

The squad includes Bob Henry and Rod Smith, co-captains; Bill Day, Pete Sacket, Jim Bonner, Bud Deyo, and the newest recruit, Tom Young. Smith is the high scorer, and Henry and Day follow close behind.

The schedule of the team has been light. They will play the Cazenovia Seminary on Friday, March 3. Prospects for further games, however, are doubtful. The squad will probably confine its energy to the interclass contest.

4 Houses Take Lead in Interfrat Court Tourney

Basketball, the only interfraternity sport that has been active so far this season, is far from decided at the present time. In the three leagues, the Deke's and the Psi U's are tied for the lead of A division with two games out of two in the bag. These two houses are scheduled to pair off next Saturday.

In the B section, the Lambda Chi's have won both of the games that they have played. The D U's have also won two games, but they have started to play off another round, and so the standing is two out of three instead of the perfect average of the other winners.

The C league leaders have the same number of games in the win and lost columns as those above; the Chi Psi's have won two straight, and the Emersonians have taken two out of three.

Freshmen Now Leaders In Interclass Hockey

The freshmen yesterday broke the deadlock that has existed in interclass hockey up to this time by beating the sophomores 3-2 in an overtime game. This victory puts the freshman team at the head of the league the squad having won three out of three games.

Runners-up in the interclass competition are the sophomores, who have two victories to their credit. The junior team has chalked up only one win, and the senior squad has yet to win a game.

Yesterday's game was marked by the dashing play of Sonny Dale, '42, whose play sparked the freshman squad. Miller and Thompson were the scorers for the class of '41; the other two freshman tallies were accounted for by Meier and Bennett.

'42 Present Leaders of Interclass Basketball

At present, the class of '42 is leading the interclass baketball league with an unbeaten record o three games played, three games won. This is perhaps to be expected of a team which plays together consistently, but the scoring of Bill Day, Rod Smith, and Bob Henry have done much to established the lead.

The sophomores are next in line with a record of two games won out of three. This team has begun to work very well as a unit and will give the freshmen plenty of trouble in holding their present lead. All of the players have been doing some scoring, but Butch Petronio, Bob Towner, and Bill Taggart seem to lead the pack by goodly margins.

The juniors and seniors, however, make up the loser's end of the record; the former with all three, the latter with two of their games chalked against them.

PLATTER PATTER

By R. S. W.

Two very definite needs have been fulfilled by Decca within the last month. One need, for a full length version of Bob Crosby's theme song, the Gershwins' famous "Summertime" from "Porgy and Bess", has been ably care of. In this, Bob has waxed a classis for the library of anybody seriously interested in swing. The backing is a new number by Bob Haggart, called "I'm Free". This side features the trumpeting of Billy Butterfield, long known for his warm and accurately-phrased passages as lead trumpet man of the Crosby aggregation.

The other need concerns the retracking of two old Kenny Sargent arrangements, "Time on My Hands" and "I Cried For You." Provided with a good background by the competent Casa Loma band, Kenny croons as capably as ever, reviving two songs which he helped make popular.

Returning to Bob Crosby, we find that he has also grooved four other sides, offering another great piano solo by Bob Zurke, "Eye Opener"; a novel arrangement of "The Skaters' Waltz" with dixieland overtones; another Haggart opus, "I'm Prayin' Humble"; and a song based on Carl Ed's "Harold Teen" called "Swingin' At the Sugar Bowl", which is slightly reminiscent of Louis Armstrong's "Skeleton In the Closet".

Speaking of Louis Armstrong, Satchomouth has turned out another Decca. The A, Johnny Mercer's "As Long As You Live You'll Be Dead If You Die", is straight commercial, and will be remembered, if at all, only for its rather eerie title. The reverse, cleffed by the maestro himself, finds Armstrong trumpeting with all his old abandon. The song is "When the Saints Go Marchin' In", and the lyrics are sung by Louis in the fanner of the well-known Elder Michaux leading his congragation in prayer.

We thought Eddie De Lange was finally ready for the big time, such arrangements as "The Pop Corn Man" and "Willie the Weeper" being solid and distinctive, but his latest six sides, show one for De Lange and five for corn. The one redeeming number, "Copenhagen", has some very good solos, but still lacks the finish and organization of Ambrose's treatment of the same song. It discmate, "You Can't Kiss a Frigidaire", exploits the old gag about the iceman and is hardly helped by the lyricizing of De Lange. Of the other four, swingcomer Elise Cooper sings three, "My Kid's Singin' Swing Songs", "Right In the Corner Where You Are", and "The Cockeyed Mayor of Kaunakaki". In all three she suffers from poor material. The fourth, "Livery Stable Blues", presents Phil Silliman as vocalist.

Les Brown also disappoints in his latest coupling, Miriam Shaw swinging poor "Nellie Gray" until she is almost unrecognizable, and the band showing on the reverse, "Lightly and Politely", that it is still very dependent upon the trumpeting of its leader.

STUDENT COUNCIL—

These seven men would act as the legislative body of the students, and would serve as an intermediary between the faculty and undergraduates. It is hoped that the faculty would, under the new plan, submit certain matters concerning student affairs to the council. The council would then solicit undergraduate opinion and make a report to the faculty. On the other hand, the council itself would also make certain suggestions to the faculty regarding students' interests.

The by-laws of the proposed organization would accumulate by precedent of cases rather than be laid down as inflexible rules at its inception.

It should be understood that this plan must be passed by both the Executive Council and the student body before it goes into effect.

FORUM

Editor of Hamilton Life,
Dear Sir:

I note in the issue of Life dated February 8, 1939, a story to the effect that the extra edition of Hamilton Life which appeared on January 10th was the first special to be printed in the history of Hamilton publications. If you will examine the file of Life in November, 1913, you will find a special extra edition of Hamilton Life, reporting the Union-Hamilton game. It may have been in 1912 instead of 1913, but in any event, the editor was George H. Lyon, '13, now editor of a leading Buffalo paper. I recall that special telephone wires were installed from the side lines and a play-by-play report was telephoned to the print shop of George William Browning, that freshmen distributed the edition, which was ready within ten minutes after the conclusion of the game and as the crowd was leaving the campus.

Sincerely yours,
Erskine R. Myer, '13.

Denver, Colorado,
February 16, 1939.

(Ed. Note: We are indebted to Mr. Myer for his correction. After looking through the Life files of 1913, we found a reference to the extra edition in an editorial. The special edition itself was not included in the files. Mr. Myer errs in his statement that George H. Lyon, '13, was the editor; Ralph W. Levenworth, '14, was editor of Life at that time.)

Attractive Prospectus Published by College

The Hamilton College Prospectus, an annual college publication sent to prospective freshmen, has hit an all-time high in point of excellence. Containing an abundance of attractive photographs and colorful descriptions of the college, it should make a very good impression upon prospective students.

The content of the booklet includes the history, ideals, and curriculum of the college; descriptions of college life, the religious program ,athletics, and expenses. On the last page is printed a list of "Interesting Facts about the College".

Among the photographs are action shots in various sports, an airplane view of the campus, the chapel, library, dormitories, and a sketch of the new gymnasium.

Camera Club to Hold Meeting This Evening

Color photography and three dimensions will be the theme of tonight's Camera Club meeting. Illustrating his talk with colored slides, Mr. Edward Trevvett of Utica will speak to the club at Sigma Phi Place on three dimensional pictures in color. All students and faculty members are invited to attend the meeting.

At the last meeting of the club, February 16, Richard S. Allen, '39, was elected president, and James Wilson, '40, secretary-treasurer. The club also decided to invite all members of the faculty, as well as the student body to join the club.

Now on exhibition in the library are the prints selected as the best in the first monthly Camera Club competition. The competition entitled "Hamilton Fun" was won by Professor G. H. Cameron's "Slalom." The subject for next month's contest, for which prints are due at the March 15 meeting, is "Faces."

Article on Hockey Team Printed in Utica Paper

An article on Hamilton's hockey team was printed in the magazine section of last Sunday's Observer-Dispatch.

The article discussed the proposed plans for the installation of an artificial ice plant and the benefits that the team would derive from it. A brief account of the records of past Hamilton teams was mentioned. Pictures of several members of the squad in action were also included in the booklet.

Indoor Practice to Begin For Baseball Candidates

When indoor practice for prospective pitchers and catchers begins next week, Coach Mox Weber will have a difficult task in building up his pitching staff. Of last year's regulars, Butch Fowler was graduated, and Les Young did not return to school. Weber will also miss Bill Lowden, now ineligible, and Bert Davis, now a student in another institution. Both players did fine hurling on last year's frosh team.

Southpaw Marty Hilfinger, Jack Williams, James Henderson, Bob Forbush, and Bill Kirk are prospects for pitching, while Kirk and Art Petronio will be candidates for the catching berth.

Dr. Schell Talks At Sunday Chapel

Rev. William P. Schell, D.D. of New York addressed the Hamilton students in the chapel service Sunday. He told them that the friends and enemies of nations, institutions, and individuals are within themselves.

"A man's enemies are those of his own household; his friends are also there. Who is it that can harm you if you are zealous for good.

"Germany does not believe that she is hurting herself...but by her tyranny...she is doing more harm than all the other nations could possibly do."

"China, on the other hand," he pointed out, has the blessing of unity, and is helping herself from within by this blessing."

The chapel service was the second to be broadcast over WIBX, Utica radio station.

Faculty Players Trounce 24 Seniors in Bridge Tilt

The Senior Class went down to defeat again last Wednesday evening as the Faculty bridge team piled up a winning margin of 7,330 points in the encounter at the Psi Upsilon House. The score was 62, 710 to 55, 380.

Professor Patton and Mr. Burton turned in the best score of the evening for the faculty, while Bill Bornmann and Charlie Gleason, Lambda Chi Alpha pair, took the honors of the senior class.

with Ipana and Massage

A BRIGHT, sparkling smile is so important to good looks! Don't risk "pink tooth brush"! Give your gums as well as your teeth proper care!

But if your tooth brush should flash that warning tinge of "pink" —see your dentist at once. You may not be in for serious trouble, but let him decide. Usually, however, his verdict will be "gums robbed of work by our modern soft foods" — "gums that need exercise for better health." And, as so many dentists do, he may suggest the healthful stimulation of Ipana and massage.

Get an economical tube of Ipana at your druggist's today. Each time that you brush your teeth, massage a little extra Ipana into the gums. For Ipana is especially designed not only to keep teeth bright and sparkling but with massage to help the health of the gums as well. Help keep your smile attractive the Ipana way!
